LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A ruling made Wednesday by Pulaski Chancellor Murray O. Reed may give Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller a chance to submit the name of a third person for a position on the Public Service Commissions.

Judge Reed ruled the state Senate's appointment of Glenn Walther to the commission was illegal and said Walther should be permanently enjoined from serving on the commission.

The vacancy came about when the term of Dan Stephens expired Jan. 14. Rockefeller nominated Jerry K. Thomasson of Arkadelphia for the post Feb. 9. The Senate, meeting as a committee of the whole, rejected Thomasson's name and appointed Walther the following day.

Rockefeller than nominated Robert E. Downie, a Little Rock lawyer, for the job after the Senate appointed Walther. The Senate never took action on the nomination of Downie.

Rockefeller could make an interim appointment to the $15,000-a-year position if Judge Reed's ruling is upheld.

Castro's Friend Is Detained

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — A 26-year-old French friend of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, Regis Debray, has been detained by military authorities, press dispatches from southeast Bolivia report.

Also reported in custody were George Andrew Roth, a British photographer, and Carlos Alberto Fructuoso, an Argentine journalist.

Military sources said last Friday that three foreigners — a Frenchman, a Briton and an Argentine — had been killed in a clash between guerrillas and troops. They said the Frenchman may have been Rene Debray, a guerrilla warfare expert considered among Cuba's top 10 Communists.

The press dispatches said troops killed six guerrillas and captured 15 in the southeastern Andes Mountains Sunday in what may have been the army's biggest attempt so far to wipe out the armed bands.

Things Are Better for Rock Tosser

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Three months ago Robert Amos Cosby, driven desperate by joblessness and debt, hurled rocks through two of the biggest plate-glass windows in City Hall.

He landed in jail, and he's still pretty frustrated with life, but things have taken a turn for the better. Cosby is working now, with enough money coming in to feed and house his family.

He has not, so far, been able to find an opening in his chosen trade of plumber, and it rankles.

"I just want a decent living for my family," he says, "and I can't get it. It's not right."

Cosby, 48, had hit bottom that day in February.

Out of work, broke, his family of 12 evicted, he turned to the County Welfare Department for help, only to hear of the "man-in-the-house" rule — no aid for a household with an able-bodied man.

As Cosby, whose name never had appeared on a police blotter, walked out of the building, his eyes came into focus on a pile of stones. He grabbed one and threw it through a huge plate-glass window. He pitched another. Then police swarmed over him.

Today, Cosby says he is sorry he did it.

But he remains one of those people frantically treading water while a wave of prosperity swishes by.

And he sinks a little deeper every week.

His take-home pay of $72 a week falls short by $12.50 of meeting bare expenses of himself, his wife and their 10 children. Township poor relief makes up the difference.

Cosby got a suspended sentence on the malicious trespass charge that resulted from smashing the window. The probation officer said he "acted only in a moment of desperation." A sympathetic landlord rented him a house for $75 a month, about half what it is worth.

But he still owes thousands of dollars, including $565 for the broken windows in the city-county building.

He is working as a $1.95-an-hour maintenance man in a State Highway Department garage.

NEPHEW to a well-known American figure, the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur, was sworn in recently as the new United States ambassador to Austria. His name is Douglas MacArthur II.

Mike Ditka Traded to the Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sure-handed Mike Ditka, the new right end of the Philadelphia Eagles, is a rare example of a man who can have his cake and eat it, too.

When Ditka was traded Wednesday by the Chicago Bears to the Eagles for quarterback Jack Concannon in a National Football League swap, he:

Left an unhappy, professional relationship.

Pocketed $50,000 without a court suit.

Was certain to sign for a salary worthy of star status with the Eagles.

In agreeing to play with Philadelphia, Ditka—who becomes a free agent May 1—says he lost a "once-in-a-lifetime" opportunity to join the Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

Unable to reach a contract agreement with owner-coach George Halas of the Bears last year, Ditka decided to play out his NFL option.

He later accepted $50,000 and a three-year contract reportedly worth $250,000 if he jumped to the Oilers this coming season.

When the AFL and NFL merged, it left Ditka's deal up in the air. Houston, in the interest of good harmony, said it did not intend to drag the Ditka case into the courts—and would let him pocket the $50,000.

"I'm not really disappointed that I didn't go with Houston," the 27-year-old Ditka said from his home in Downers Grove, Ill.

"Actually, I've got a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity in Philadelphia to start over with a new club. I feel the Eagles have a chance to win it all next season."

Coach Joe Kuharich of the Eagles said he expected no problems signing Ditka, who would be free to sell his services to any team if he's not satisfied with the Philadelphia offer.

Ditka fills a badly needed position left vacant when Pete Retzlaff retired. Ditka's six-year record with the Bears includes 316 catches for 4,503 yards and 34 TDs.

Concannon, 24, a scrambling quarterback, watched the games from the bench through most of his three years with Philadelphia.

Last year he played more than his share, leading a late-season surge that put the Eagles in the Playoff Bowl.

The Bears also received a 1968 draft choice from Philadelphia.

Reds Down Giants for 6th Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cincinnati's Dave Bristol, weary of paying heavy tolls on the road west, has come up with a new route.

And, suddenly, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Houston have become hot tourist attractions for Manager Bristol and the resurgent Reds.

Powered by Deron Johnson and Don Pavletich, the Reds downed the Giants 4-2 Wednesday for their sixth victory in nine road games against the National League's westernmost clubs.

Last season Cincinnati, in tumbling to a seventh-place finish, lost 22 of 27 road games against the Dodgers, Giants and Astros. The Reds were 3-6 at Los Angeles, 2-7 at San Francisco and 0-9 in the Astrodome.

This spring the Reds have played all of their 15 games—including six at home—against the same trio, and have won all but four. They took five of six at home, dropped two in a row at LA before beating the Dodgers, then swept four games at Houston. They are 1-1 at San Francisco, where they complete the 10-game trip today.

"As far as last season goes, we didn't play well on the road—period," Bristol said recently in evaluating his club's 1967 prospects. "We had a losing record in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Atlanta, too."

"Winning more games on the road is part of our over-all picture. When we started spring training, I told the team to forget last season—and I meant it."

Johnson smacked his fifth homer in Wednesday's victory over the Giants while Pavletich stroked a double and RBI single, and fireman Ted Abernathy registered his sixth save in relief of winner Billy McCool.

St. Louis whipped Houston 7-2, extending the Astros' tailspin to 10 straight setbacks, and Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1 in the only other NL action. Rain washed out the New York-Chicago and Philadelphia-Pittsburgh games.

The Chicago White Sox topped the New York Yankees 5-1 in the American League, where bad weather forced postponement of four other games.

Johnson homered off loser Bob Bolin in the second inning and the Reds added another run in the fourth on Pavletich's double and a single by Tommy Helms.

Tony Perez and Pavletich knocked in fifth-inning runs, giving McCool a 4-0 lead, but the Cincinnati starter was unable to finish.

Gerry Arrigo relieved with two on in the seventh and the Giants scored twice on a ground out and Willie Mays' single before Abernathy slammed the gates.

Mays drew a blank in four other trips to the plate—his batting average dipping to .231—and dropped a fly ball.

Steve Carlton, making his first start, pitched eight strong innings for St. Louis before giving way to Dick Hughes in the ninth. The 22-year-old southpaw allowed only five hits, including a two-run homer by Rusty Staub, and struck out nine as the Cardinals clung to the league lead.

Four walks, a run-scoring ground out, and singles by Julian Javier and Dal Maxvill netted four runs off loser Mike Cuellar in the fourth. Lou Brock's triple capped a three-run sixth for the Cards.

The Dodgers snapped a 1-1 leadlock in the seventh inning when Lou Johnson lashed a two-out double and scored on Ron Fairly's single. The winning hit broke an 0-for-12 slump for Fairly.

Winner Don Drysdale fired a two-hitter until the eighth, when he needed relief help from Ron Perranoski after yielding two more hits. Perranoski fanned Mack Jones to end the threat and Phil Regan finished up.

Peters Hot, Yankees Defeated

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It might as well have been 80 degrees and balmy instead of 40 and frigid at Yankee Stadium Wednesday for all it bothered Chicago's Gary Peters.

The American League's earned run leader last year, Peters breezed past New York 5-1 with a sharp four-hitter. It wasn't his favorite kind of weather, but it didn't affect his pitching.

"I prefer hot weather," Peters said later. "But I'm not terribly bothered by the cold. Once you get loose, you don't feel it and you don't get as tired in it."

Peters looked pretty hot to the Yankees, who didn't manage to hit against him until the fifth inning and scored their only run with two out in the ninth.

"He showed me a slider I haven't seen before," said Elston Howard, who stroked the first hit off Peters after he had retired the first 12 batters he faced.

"My slider was sharp all the way," the White Sox' lefty agreed. "At first, I was getting my curve and slider both over but the curve started giving me trouble around the sixth inning."

Peters said the cold weather helped him because it caused the batters' hands to sting when they hit the ball.

"They don't like it and they tend to lay off the inside stuff because they're afraid of the sting," said Peters. "That helps the pitcher."

The White Sox hopped on Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre for a run in the first and got four more in the third in a rally started by Peters' single and capped by Tom McCraw's three-run homer.

The Yankees are 6-5 and have lost five straight to Peter's in a string that stretches back to September 1965.

"It was cold then too," smiled Peters.

The other four American League games Wednesday were rained out.

In the National League, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 4-2, St. Louis trounced Houston 7-2 and Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1. The Philadelphia Phillies at Pittsburgh and New York at Chicago games were rained out.

Casper Gets Role of Favorite

By PAUL RECER
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Billy Casper got the favorite's nod as the Texas Open Golf Tournament started today.

Casper and a field of 143 other pros, including a number of current champions, will be playing for a $20,000 first-place purse over the par 71, 7,138-yard Pecan Valley Country Club course.

The National Open champion fired a disappointing 72 Wednesday in a pro-am preliminary to the richest — yet Texas Open. The round was played in an intermittent drizzle that slowed the greens.

Close behind Casper in the lineup of favorites are 1966 PGA champ Al Geiberger, World Series of Golf winner Gene Littler and three players now ranked among the top 10 PGA tour money winners — Bert Yancey, Bob Goalby and Frank Beard.

Yancey moved up to sixth in the rankings this week after a $20,000 first-place win in the Dallas Open. Goalby, the San Diego Open winner, is ranked ninth and Beard, winner of the Tournament of Champions, is ranked 10th.

Azalea Open winner Randy Glover, and three others in the top 20 money winners are also in the field. The other ranked money winners include Bruce Crampton, Chuck Courtney and Harold Henning, the South African who took top money here last year.

This is the finest coupe made in America

This is the Lincoln Continental Coupe. It is the only two door hardtop we make.

Other makers of luxury automobiles sell three or four variations of a coupe. But this is not the Continental way.

We take all the good things we can offer in a luxury motor car, and we put them all in our coupe.

When you own a Continental, you own a complete car. The practice of putting a little more of this, and a little less than that in look-alike variations, is a game we don't care to play.

If you're tired of playing games, consider Lincoln Continental. Unquestionably, the finest coupe made in America.

Tight Shoes, Socks Main Cause of Ingrown Toenails

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have an ingrowing toenail. What is the best treatment for it?
A—Since ingrowing toenails are caused by tight shoes and socks, the first step in treatment is to eliminate this factor. Improper cutting of the nails will aggravate your problem. The nails must be cut straight across. You should also place a small wisp of cotton under both corners of the nail.
Ingrowing toenails are also made worse by moisture and an accumulation of dirt under the nails. Wash your feet and change your socks daily and, if they tend to perspire excessively, dust powdered alum in your shoes every morning.
If these simple measures do not give you relief you should either wear open-toed sandals or have your surgeon remove the section of the nail that is curled inward. This operation will give only temporary relief unless the nail-bed under the skin of your toe on the involved side is completely destroyed.

Q—I am a housewife. I have a painful bunion on my left foot. What is the best treatment?
A—If yours is an uncomplicated bunion, an injection of hydrocortisone into the joint should relieve the pain. Since tight shoes with high heels are a cause of bunions in women, you should insist on being fitted with shoes that fit you and have low heels. Once a bunion has formed the only way to get rid of it is by surgical removal, but before having this done you should make sure that your pain is caused by your bunion and not by arthritis.

Q—In a recent column you recommended using an ointment for soft corns. What kind of ointment do you mean?
A—The ointment most often prescribed is Whitfield's. It contains salicylic acid, which is a common ingredient of remedies for hard corns. This acid causes peeling of the skin and also kills

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The game of golf, which was invented in Scotland, is known to have been popular in that country about 1440, says The World Almanac. In fact, the game became much too popular with the people to please King James II. In 1457, he made it unlawful for anyone to play at "golfe." According to the king, the people could better use their leisure time practicing archery.

Missing Item Repeat Show Stalin's Kin

Your editor's stint was missing the first three days of this week — and for good reason. A week ago we turned out four process color productions, operating the Berkey separator with no outside help, and were tied up the forepart of this week preparing the material for publication.

The first of these productions will be printed on this page tomorrow—two eight-column shots of the Hot Springs horse races. This will be the fourth of The Star's four-color picture layouts. But on the earlier three our Berkey machine was operated by out-of-town experts—this time we're on our own. I ran the Berkey, with Billy Dan Jones, mechanical superintendent, sitting in on the run; so you'll know where to put the blame if the result is less than perfect.

Of our four home-town productions two came out O.K. at the first try—the horse-race subject to be published this Friday; and our 1965 White River fishing float, published in black and white in October 1965, now repeated in process color. It will be printed next week in a seven-column layout. Heretofore we have been working from 4x5 Ektachrome transparencies, but with the White River production we advance to 35mm. Kodachrome, putting "frames" on one set of page-size negatives.

We had technical trouble with the other two of the four color runs, and are remaking them for publication later on. So even if tomorrow's color is O.K. we are still battling only 50-50—but it's better that way than having to rely on outside talent. And we never would have bought the Berkey if we hadn't planned to run it with our own staff.

Here we go again in the "back 40." You may recall the misadventure of last spring when my pair of Canada geese and pair of domestic white ones had a community nest. The domestic white hen, the bossy "Mrs. Grundy," took charge—and botched the job. Not a goose egg was hatched—and the disaster broke up for a while the beautiful friendships that had existed between the wild and native geese.

There's a new nest—a building in the "back 40." First time I discovered it there were five giant eggs. Now there are 15, and pretty soon one of the hens will start covering it. Which will it be this time: Mrs. Grundy, who botched the job a year ago, or the untitled Canada hen? I may have to lock up Mrs. Grundy to give the other one a chance.

One of the great dramas of our time is being enacted in New York. The daughter of the late Russian dictator Josef Stalin has sought asylum in our country and is now "telling all" to the newspaper reporters. Svetlana says that while the present Soviet regime blames all manner of crime on her father it is doing the same things itself. What her report amounts to is that Russia and the Red system of government march on the same way regardless who is head of state—and that's one report Americans will buy without quibbling.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson accused Republican congressional critics of his elementary and secondary schools program today of a "reckless effort to rewrite our laws for partisan political advantage."

The $6.7 billion bill to extend the program two years has bumped into roadblocks in the House and Republicans are pushing for a substitute. The GOP wants to turn over the funds to the states to decide how they should be used rather than leave it to the federal government to continue passing on the local education plans to receive federal financing.

City Plans $500,000 St. Program

Hope City Directors and the Hope Planning Commission will meet jointly at 7 p.m. tonight (Thursday) and out of the meeting is expected to come the decision to push for a $500,000 street improvement program.

The project will call for new paving, curb and gutter on main thoroughfares and heavily traveled streets.

The proposed project, without federal aid, would mean the levying of a five-mill property tax and a city-wide vote.

John Hawkins, Texarkana engineer, is expected to meet with the group, discuss a master street paving plan and to bring recommendations.

To expedite the matter, once approved in a city election, bids would be let and contracts awarded.

In the meantime, city directors are awaiting bids from equipment dealers for the purchase of a new excavating and slurry machine, which will involve an expenditure in excess of $40,000. These two pieces of road equipment will be used and operated by city employees on Hope's unimproved and secondary streets.

The slurry machine is a vehicle which spreads, smooths, and seals asphalt once the "chug holes" are filled, the patch work completed and the roadbed put in proper order.

Bids on the two machines are expected to be received by May 10.

House Spending $9,247 Suite for Furniture

WASHINGTON (AP) — House officials think they can hold the cost of furniture, blinds and other fixtures for a three-room congressional office suite to $9,247.

But the members will have to put up with some second-hand stuff.

Testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee, made public today, disclosed that the architect of the Capitol's original estimate for outfitting the 138 Cannon Office Building suites now being remodeled was $11,080 apiece.

Court Ruling Also Applies to Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's Miranda decision — requiring that suspects be told of their right to counsel at all times and their right to remain silent — has been held applicable to military cases.

In a 2-1 decision, the U. S. Court of Military Appeals overruled Wednesday an earlier military appeals court ruling, which said it was not necessary for military counsel to be present at all times during an investigation to insure the suspect understood his right to remain silent.

The majority decision by Associate Judge Homer Ferguson said the ruling will affect all military cases tried on or after June 13, 1966 — date of the Miranda decision.

The opinion involved the court martial of Airman 3C, Michael L. Tempa, New York City, convicted June 14, 1966 — one day after the Miranda decision — of taking indecent liberties with three 10-year-old girls May 1, 1966, at Dover Air Force Base, Del.

Tempa, sentenced to a bad-conduct discharge, forfeiture of all privileges, confinement at hard labor for six months and reduction of rank, appealed on grounds his pretrial statement — given without counsel — was allowed as evidence at this trial.

The U. S. Military Appeals Court ruled improper the refusal of a judge advocate to make available to Tempa counsel during the investigation by the special office of investigations.

Tempa's court martial was held at Dover AFB.

The court ordered the conviction reversed and a rehearing held.

General Is Attacked for Trip Home

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland's mission home — defended by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey — came under Republican attack today as a move to silence Vietnam war critics.

Humphrey told a news conference Wednesday night that no one wants to muzzle "responsible" criticism of Johnson administration policies. He said Westmoreland had given an "excellent assessment" of the Vietnam situation in a speech at an Associated Press meeting in New York Monday.

When the general speaks to Congress Friday, Humphrey predicted, he will be "well received" and will be "highly informative and helpful to the American people."

But Westmoreland's charge in the New York speech that "unpatriotic acts" of protesters at home are giving comfort to Hanoi brought criticism from Republicans who had been silent when Democratic critics complained bitterly about it in the Senate Tuesday.

While they did not go as far as Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., who said the administration was using "political blackmail" to silence its critics, Sens. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., and Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., protested that the patriotism of those who differ on policy is being questioned.

Hatfield told a Yale audience in New Haven, Conn., Wednesday night that "those who dare to challenge the administration's policies do so at the risk of having their patriotism questioned."

He said Westmoreland "is joining in the effort to silence opposition." Aiken, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he regards the return of the U.S. commander in Vietnam as "part of an effort to quiet disapproving comment on the course of the war." Aiken has opposed escalation of the fighting.

"I detect an air of desperation on the part of the administration," Aiken said. "I think they are searching for someone to blame for their misjudgments. I have the impression that they are planning considerably more escalation."

Morton, often a spokesman for GOP moderates, said in a separate interview he deplores that Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., had to suggest in Tuesday's crackling debate that an effort was being made to equate dissent with treason.

"Dissent is not unpatriotic," Morton said. "I hold no brief for these draft card and flag burners. We should avoid creating any miscalculation in Hanoi but there can be responsible dissent without burning draft cards and flags."

Morton said he regards the President's action in bringing back Westmoreland as a ploy on the part of the administration. That does not mean, he said, any criticism of the general himself but of the circumstances of his return.

Spa Planning Model City Project

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Hot Springs City Council approved a resolution Wednesday asking for a $99,290 federal grant for planning a Model City project. The action was taken at a special session of the council.

Mayor Dan Wolf said Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had pledged money from his contingency fund to match a contribution of $12,211 from the city. Wolf said Rockefeller said he would match a city's contribution up to $15,000 if its application for a federal planning grant was approved.

The application for the grant will be made to the Fort Worth regional office of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development.

PAUL GUERIN

JOE PURVIS

Two Hendrix College students from Hope were recently elected to the Hendrix Student Senate in the campus-wide elections. The students are Joe Purvis, who was elected Senior Class senator and Paul Guerin, elected as Junior Class senator. Both the Senior Class and the Junior Class elect two senators.

Purvis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Purvis of 315 N. Pine, and Guerin is the son of Dr. and Mrs. D. Lloyd Guerin of 908 S. Main.

Guthrie Is Winner of Election

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP) — Kenneth Guthrie, the incumbent, was declared winner of the Lawrence County Sheriff's race Wednesday by Circuit Judge Andrew Ponder.

Guthrie, a Democrat, and Republican Don Nicholas had been involved in an election suit which Nicholas filed after the County Election Board had certified Guthrie the winner in last year's general election.

Judge Ponder had ruled there was 89 illegal ballots cast in the general election and he had ordered that these ballots be examined Wednesday by representatives of both sides in the suit.

After the 89 votes were counted and subtracted from the general election totals of Guthrie and Nicholas, Judge Ponder ruled that the final vote was 2,837 for Guthrie and 2,738 for Nicholas.

Attention on Election

BRIERLEY HILL, England (AP) — National attention focused on a special election in the Brierley Hill district today as Prime Minister Harold Wilson urged voters to reverse the losing trend of his Labor party.

Despite Labor's sending in such national party leaders as Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan to campaign, public opinion surveys indicated that the Conservatives would hold the House of Commons seat made vacant by a death.

The Conservatives won control of a large number of county councils throughout England and Wales during the week of April 10, and the Laborites lost control of London's County government for the first time in 33 years.

Conservative Fergus Montgomery, a former schoolteacher, was running today against Laborite Derek Forwood, an insurance broker, and Liberal Michael Steed, who has been attacking Wilson's foreign policy.

U.S. Agency's Costly, Worthless Deals in Vietnam Under Probe

By PHIL KEIF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony at a Senate hearing indicates a Vietnamese importer got $140,000 from the U.S. government for worthless goods. The $140,000 was the importer's share of $250,000 in Agency for International Development money to finance the importing of an epsom salts solution billed by its manufacturer as a battery preservative.

"Seems to me a 56 per cent commission is pretty high," said Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., of the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations at Wednesday's hearing into the matter.

His subcommittee hearings on alleged fraud and dishonesty in the AID commodity import program in Vietnam continue today.

The National Bureau of Standards says the battery additive is "without merit."

It was developed by Thomas Edison Higgins of Treasure Island, Fla., and shipped by him to Higgins International in Saigon, a firm set up by Vietnamese importers.

Subcommittee investigators say all but 150 of the 240,000 packets of Higgins' battery additive were left in a Saigon warehouse.

Yet the $250,000 was paid to Higgins, who said he sent $125,000 to a Swiss bank upon instructions of the Vietnamese importer, Doanh Tin Duc, for the personal account of Dinh Xuan Thao, plus another $15,000 to a Tokyo firm.

Higgins, in an affidavit submitted to the subcommittee, said his product was not worthless. He said he developed it several years ago but was unable to sell it in the United States because large battery manufacturers were "fearful" it would "decrease their sales."

Higgins' attorney said the additive developer had been admitted to a psychiatric institution in Baltimore, Md., was under heavy sedation and in "a confused state."

Other testimony Wednesday indicated total AID money involved was $355,000, although Higgins mentioned only $250,000 in his affidavit.

The rest, it was indicated, was for shipments of another Higgins' product — rust inhibitor — last December. The battery additive was shipped last May and June — until AID stopped it. Then, Higgins said, the Vietnamese importers amended their import licenses to handle the rust inhibitor.

Wants UN to Use Military

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Fifty of the 122 United Nations members called Wednesday for the U.N. Security Council to use military force if necessary to end South Africa's control of South-West Africa.

The U.N. General Assembly voted last October to terminate South Africa's League of Nations mandate over the former German colony but left it to the current special session to consider ways of bringing this about.

The resolution was introduced by 49 African and Asian nations plus Yugoslavia. It needs a two-thirds vote for approval. Any Security Council action would have to get past the big-power veto.

In Binh Duong Province north of Saigon, troops of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry clashed with an enemy force of unknown size this morning. Artillery and air strikes were called in to back up the Americans, but spokesmen said they had no other details except that the action was continuing.

Operation Manhattan, a massive search-and-destroy sweep northwest of Saigon, continued with only light, scattered action. But U.S. and Vietnamese troops were reported finding enemy rice caches and some stores of weapons and equipment.

Eleven enemy were reported killed in the operation Wednesday. One U.S. infantryman was killed and 17 wounded, they added.

Marines Fail in Try to Take Hill

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes and artillery pounded a stubborn North Vietnamese force holding a hill in the northwest corner of South Vietnam today after 37 Marines were killed and 84 wounded in an unsuccessful, three-day attempt to take the hill.

In the air war against North Vietnam, the U.S. command announced four American planes were shot down in Wednesday's raids against the Hanoi and Haiphong areas. This raised announced losses this week to 10 U.S. planes in three days of intensified raids on the North Vietnamese heartland. The total losses announced for the air war against North Vietnam are now 520.

The U.S. command said one pilot shot down Wednesday was rescued by helicopter while four others were missing.

Hanoi Radio had claimed 11 American planes were downed Wednesday.

Although spokesmen in Saigon said the Marines had "closed out" their attempt to take Hill 861 three miles northwest of Khe Sanh, Associated Press photographer Richard Merron reported from Khe Sanh that bombs and artillery were raining on the Communists while Marine officers made plans for another assault.

Merron also reported 37 Marines killed and 84 wounded, while headquarters in Saigon said 22 Leathernecks were killed and 43 wounded.

A spokesman in Saigon said the Marines were looking for an estimated North Vietnamese company in Quang Tri Province, bordering the frontier with Laos, and "they found them." Tuesday, The North Vietnamese were well entrenched in bunkers and caves and threw back repeated Marine attempts to throw them off the hill.

There was no estimate of enemy casualties.

In other ground action, a company from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division ran into an enemy platoon late Wednesday and reported killing 15 in two hours of fighting in the central highlands area of Pleiku Province.

Bond Set for Woman Pending Court Hearing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court granted Mrs. Ruth Estes, 27, $2,000 bond Wednesday pending its review of an order by Chancellor P. S. Cunningham of Walnut Ridge.

Cunningham directed Mrs. Estes to return her two children, who are in Puerto Rico, to Independence County. Cunningham gave Mrs. Estes permission to take the children to Puerto Rico for two weeks last August.

Mrs. Estes was jailed Monday on Cunningham's order. Mrs. Estes obtained a court order in Puerto Rico giving her custody of the children, Terry Lynn Masner, 8, and Toni Gayle Masner, 7. She contends that the order supersedes the order issued by Cunningham.

Mrs. Estes' attorneys also argued Cunningham did not have authority in the case. The children have been placed in the custody of the parents of Mrs. Estes' first husband.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — Not everyone in this wheat-and-cattle town of 14,500 — the Chamber of Commerce would like it known as 15,000 — is happy about the Hollywood invasion to film "In Cold Blood."

The chamber itself has endorsed the advent of the movie makers. "There's no doubt that most of us in business will benefit by having the Hollywood people here," said a jewelry store owner.

City and county officials have given their tacit approval of the production by permitting use of the streets and the courthouse for filming.

But to some residents, the memory of the Clutter family massacre is too fresh.

"I would have preferred that they made the film elsewhere," admitted Bill Brown, editor of the daily Garden City Telegram. He knew the Clutter family and witnessed the hanging of the two murderers. He is understandably weary of the seven-year-old case.

His objections go beyond a newsman's tiredness with a drawn-out story.

"Some of us have resented the fact that out of this terrible tragedy many have found avenues for making a great deal of money," said Brown. He cited the "Invasion of privacy" of the surviving members of the Clutter family; two married daughters live out of the state.

The family's viewpoint was expressed in a letter to the Telegram last year when the Truman Capote book was a best-seller.

The family pastor wrote: "The family and close friends are saddened by the continuous reminder of this tragic event and will welcome the time when publicity, articles, etc., will be at a minimum. It would seem merciful to let them grieve in peace."

The two survivors were quoted as saying: "Capote has always been a fiction writer; he still is a fiction writer"; and, "I can read this book objectively because I feel I am not reading about my own family."

Capote, who paid a visit to the filming here last week, accused editor Brown of conducting a

A "Husband-Winning" Dessert

Can she bake a cherry pie? Tradition has it that an affirmative answer to this question is the mark of a marriageable girl. If you have trouble producing a "husband-catching pie," then try this Deep Dish Cherry Pudding. It's absolutely error proof and so yummy you'll never notice that it's not "pie shaped."

The crust is a flavorful combination of crushed cookies and spices and canned cherry pie filling which eliminates the tricky cooking of cherries.

Deep Dish Cherry Pudding
1 (10-ounce) package LORNA DOONE Shortbread, finely rolled
1½ teaspoons ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground allspice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 (1 pound, 6 ounce) cans cherry pie filling
¼ cup chopped walnuts
Whipped cream or ice cream

Combine the first three ingredients. Reserve ¾ cup for topping. Spoon remaining into a buttered 8-inch square cake pan. Press firmly against bottom with back of a spoon. Stir lemon rind into cherry pie filling. Spoon over crust. Toss nuts with reserved crumb mixture; sprinkle over top. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm or cooled. Top with sweetened whipped heavy cream or ice cream if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

tombed to investigative, laughed when he heard Capote's comment and said: "Well, I'm glad Truman is attacking me on facts that I don't smoke or drink."

A courthouse worker, Russell Fulton's opinion is that editor Brown reflected Brown's own, not the majority's view. Fulton believed the film company brought needed excitement to Garden City.

LBJ Catches It From All Sides

WASHINGTON (AP)—It looks like President Johnson is going to get it every which way.

Alabama's former governor, George C. Wallace, the South's outstanding segregationist, is thinking of heading a third-party ticket in the 1968 presidential race and believes, if he does, it would hurt the Democrats more than the Republicans.

At the other extreme Dr. Martin Luther King, the civil rights apostle, is now busy trying to join the civil rights and antiwar-in-Vietnam movements into an antiwar bloc that will try to pressure Johnson into seeking peace.

King talked at a news conference at Cambridge, Mass., where a pamphlet, distributed at the conference, said, "We aim at more than changing a vote or two in Congress. We seek to defeat Lyndon Johnson and his war."

On the CBS television program, "Face the Nation," Charles H. Percy who took his seat last January as a senator from Illinois, wasn't satisfied with the way Johnson is handling the war although Percy's solution sounded confusing.

In just about three months Percy has shot up to such prominence among Republicans that he is being mentioned as a possible candidate for his party against Johnson next year.

He said the United States should press for more participation by its Asian allies in the war and should not take "no" for an answer.

"There ought to be a limit," he explained, "where we say: This is how far we'll go and no farther unless you provide the support and help from Asia itself that can keep the effort going."

"Suppose the answer is no?" he was asked. "I don't think that's an acceptable answer," Percy said. But that really wasn't answering the question. And then, while urging a limitation on the American effort, he insisted the United States should not reduce or withdraw its present forces in Vietnam.

But if the allies won't do any more, and if the United States shouldn't go further if the allies won't do any more, but the United States should not reduce its forces, what should it do to win, since it hasn't won yet?

He also suggested the bombing of North Vietnam be limited rather than expanded. He said escalating the bombing decreases the chances for peace but he favors a continuance of the bombing.

Earlier this month King was saying that getting the civil rights and antiwar movements to work together to end the war was not a "fusion" of the two forces but only a "coalition," which happens to mean "fusion."

He is "fusing" them now, or trying to.

There was a strong reaction against King's proposal by other civil rights groups which warned that the civil rights effort would be weakened by linking it with antiwar sentiment.

Sunday he was asked if he thought his peace activities had hurt his work for civil rights and said, "I think my failure to work for peace would have hurt it more."

This is questionable, for only Sunday the head of the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., took a different view in a place where civil rights can be hurt: Congress.

Celler said statements by King and two Negro advocates of "black power," Stokely Carmichael and Floyd McKissick, "have injured severely the civil rights movement."

He said their statements, along with a recent burning of the American flag during an antiwar demonstration in New York a week ago, had virtually killed chances to pass civil rights legislation now or in the immediate future.

But King said Sunday the antiwar movement would get into politics at least to the extent of supporting peace candidates in local elections but, since the pamphlet talked of defeating Johnson, King may be thinking in national terms, too, perhaps even of a fourth party.

Russia Won't Aid American Prisoners

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has turned down a U.S. request for a joint move to try to improve the lot of American prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

The rebuff from Moscow this week is interpreted in the State Department as fresh evidence of a toughening line on the part of the Soviet government in support of North Vietnam.

This marks a sharp swing away from the Soviet position in February when Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, meeting with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson in London, played an important role in seeking to get peace talks started.

The peace mission failed and apparently the Soviets found the failure and their part in it embarrassing because of their rivalry with Communist China in opposing the United States and supporting Communist forces in Vietnam.

Several days ago, U.S. officials said today, the United States asked the Soviet government to use its good offices with the North Vietnamese government to bring about a change in the condition of the POWs — captured American airmen — held by North Vietnam.

The Soviet reply, officials said, boiled down to saying North Vietnam is a sovereign country and the United States should take up its problem with Hanoi directly. The United States does not recognize or have direct relations with Hanoi, but officials said it already had addressed a new appeal to North Vietnam through the International Committee of the Red Cross.

The State Department's figures through April 18 show 128 American airmen confirmed as prisoners in North Vietnam, 52 suspected, and 203 missing — a total of 383.

A new wave of concern swept through the government here after publication recently of photographs of American POWs by an American photographer permitted to visit Hanoi. The photographs and descriptions gave rise to official fears the men might have been subject to drugs or brainwashing.

The United States has sent a number of approaches to North Vietnam in the past for freeing or exchanging prisoners or, failing that, for allowing them to be visited by Red Cross or other representatives who could regularly observe their condition.

In effect what the United States asked the Soviet government to do was support the efforts of the International Committee of the Red Cross.

Officials said Soviet cooperation in working as an intermediary reached its peak at the time of the Kosygin-Wilson conference which coincided with a lunar New Year cease-fire in Vietnam. The aim of proposals forwarded to Hanoi by Kosygin then was to try to find a basis for extending the truce and beginning active negotiations.

Soviet Engineer Asks Asylum

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — A 26-year-old Soviet engineer who has requested political asylum in the United States arrived here from Tokyo on a commercial airliner today, apparently for questioning by U.S. officials or to await transportation to another destination.

American authorities in Tokyo said they were considering the request of Ashot Vaganovich Khachatryan, who approached a Marine guard at the U.S. Embassy Monday night. Following Japanese procedures, embassy officials turned Khachatryan over to Japanese authorities who determined that he was seeking asylum voluntarily.

Khachatryan, in Japan as a tourist, said he planned for 10 years to defect.

U.S. Giving Clay Two Chances

By B. F. KELLUM
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The government will give Cassius Clay two chances under two names to be inducted into the Army Friday.

"We will abide with him whatever name he wants," an induction officer said. "We will call him Muhammad Ali if he prefers when we ask him to take the one step forward to be inducted. If he refuses to take the step we will ask him under the name Cassius Marcellus Clay Jr."

"If he still refuses, an officer will quietly take him from the group and into a conference room where the penalty for refusing will be explained to him. He will be returned later and asked if he has reconsidered."

"If he again declines he will be asked for a statement. Regardless of whether he makes a statement or not he will be dismissed."

Failure of Clay to be inducted would make him subject to a possible $10,000 fine, a five-year prison sentence, or both.

A last attempt by Clay's lawyers to get the unbeatn heavy-weight champion from facing criminal action if he refuses to be inducted was scheduled for 3 p.m. (EST) Thursday in federal court.

However, U.S. Atty. Morton Susman says Clay will not be arrested and that it could be 30 to 60 days before criminal action is taken if Clay refuses. Clay's lawyers are asking U.S. Dist. Judge Allen B. Hannay for an injunction pending settlement of a lawsuit in which the entire Selective Service System

Medics Are Featured in Trial

By DON NORTH
NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Carl Coppolino's murder trial continues to be a classroom in medical theory as defense and state experts haggle over the cause of death of the doctor's first wife, Carmela.

The state alleges that Coppolino, 34, in financial trouble, killed his 32-year-old wife with a muscle-relaxing drug to collect $65,000 life insurance and continue a "life of luxury" as the husband of Mary Gibson, 39, a wealthy divorcee.

Medical experts testified for the state that chemical tests on Carmela's exhumed body convinced them that death was caused by a toxic overdose of succinylcholine, a drug mainly used in surgery.

The defense produced experts who said that nothing shown by the state could lead to any conclusion other than that the cause of death is unknown.

Dr. Frank B. Cleveland, medical examiner of Cincinnati, testified Wednesday as a rebuttal witness for the state that Carmela's death was due to "intoxication with succinylcholine."

Cleveland, who examined tissue and photographs of the alleged injection site, said that in his opinion Carmela was alive when injected and died "in a relatively short period of time — an hour or less."

Defense Attorney F. Lee Bailey asked Cleveland whether he based his opinion of a finding of 4.5 milligrams of succinic acid in the woman's brain.

"Yes," said Cleveland. "It was a significant finding. You normally would not find free succinic acid in the brain."

Bailey recalled Dr. C. Joseph Umberger, chief toxicologist for the New York City medical examiner, whose chemical analysis turned up the succinic acid, a component of succinylcholine.

Umberger said he had never tested for the drug in a homicide case before. Bailey asked if he wasn't dealing in theory then.

"I gave you theory which you didn't refute," said Umberger.

Coppolino's mother, Anna Coppolino, testified for the defense that Marjorie Farber, her son's former mistress, had told her more than once she "wanted to marry Carl."

The defense claims that Mrs. Farber, a 52-year-old widow, went to authorities after Coppolino spurned her in favor of Mary Gibson, and told them Carmela had been slain.

Stanley Cup Play Resumes Tonight

TORONTO (AP) — The torrid battle for the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup championship resumes tonight and the two standouts of Tuesday's overtime battle — goalie Rogatien Vachon and Johnny Bower — will be back at their posts.

Vachon, the Montreal rookie, got beat Tuesday when Bob Pulford scored in the second overtime to give Toronto a 3-2 victory and a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 series.

However, Vachon made 51 saves, and Toe Blake, coach of the defending champion Canadiens, said Wednesday:

"Vachon will be in goal Thursday night. It wasn't his fault that we lost. If we'd got the goal he'd have been the hero."

Vachon is backed up by veteran netminders Gump Worsley and Charlie Hodge, neither of whom have seen action in the playoffs this year.

Bower was brilliant in Tuesday's game, stopping 60 Montreal shots.

"I don't believe in age," Toronto Coach Punch Imlach said. "Ability is what counts with me, age doesn't mean a thing. Although he's 42 years old, Bower has lost none of his sharp eyesight and reflexes that make him a good national Hockey League goalie."

The other Maple Leaf goalie is Terry Sawchuk, hero of the semifinals victory over the league champion Chicago Black Hawks.

THE PLUMBING may be primitive, but the shower is still effective for a trooper of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division using the equipment at hand during a rest period in Vietnam.

Miss Stalin Blames Other Red Leaders

By STANLEY JOHNSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Svetlana Alliluyeva has accused some of the present Soviet leaders of sharing responsibility for killings and other crimes which occurred during the regime of her father, Joseph Stalin.

"I think that many other people who still are in our Central Committee and Politburo should be responsible for the same things for which he (Stalin) alone was accused," she told a news conference Wednesday.

During the hour-long session she also described her disillusionment with communism, her conversion to Christianity and her decision to seek haven in the United States to find self-expression in writing.

More than 400 newsmen packed the conference room at the Plaza Hotel to hear Mrs. Alliluyeva — poised throughout — answer questions drawn at random from written queries submitted in advance. They applauded when it was over.

She drew chuckles with her reply when asked if she would apply for American citizenship: "Before the marriage there should be love. So if I should love this country and this country will love me then the marriage will be settled. But I cannot say now."

For most of the time she was serious, however, and when she talked of her children, a son, 22, and daughter, 15, she left in Moscow, even somber.

"I don't think something bad will happen to them, because they don't deserve it," she said. "I don't think it (her defection) endangers them because they know nothing of my plans. They are not guilty at all. They cannot be punished for anything."

She said she was baptized into the Russian Orthodox Church in Moscow in May 1962. But, she said, there was nothing exclusive in her faith. Orthodoxy was the one "to which my parents and my ancestors belonged."

"I believe that all religions are true, and different religions are only different ways to the same God. When I am talking about God, I am just talking about happiness to live and to enjoy life on this earth," she explained.

Religion Threat to School Aide

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — The landmark federal aid to elementary and secondary schools program, a cornerstone of President Johnson's "Great Society," is threatened by an increasingly partisan crossfire with religious overtones.

The House is to consider next week or the week after a $6.7-billion administration bill that would extend the program for another two years. It originally had been scheduled to come up last week, but a delay in the Rules Committee and the need by Democratic leaders to take more time to line up votes put it off.

Now many Democrats feel the time is ripe to bring it up, and a leadership decision was expected today on when to schedule it.

The major issue is whether the federal government should continue to approve which local education plans get the federal funds.

Republicans want to give the money directly to the states and let them decide how it should be used.

The GOP proposal would allocate the money differently among the states, with some of the big Northern industrial states such as New York, California and Illinois losing and smaller states gaining funds.

While the administration bill is based on the number of poor people in each school district, the Republican measure would leave aid distribution to each state's discretion, except that a half of the money would have to go for educationally deprived children.

Complicating the problem for administration forces are the House's 50 to 60 Southern Democrats who favor less federal control over the funds — specifically regulations relating to racial integration of recipient school districts.

But Democratic leaders believe the more partisan the battle gets, the better chance they have to keep Southern Democratic defections at a minimum.

The Republican proposal, sponsored by Rep. Albert H. Quie of Minnesota, has raised once again the church-state issue that plagued education bills for years.

Catholic leaders are concerned that private schools — mainly parochial — would be left out in the cold under the Quie proposal. They trooped up to Capitol Hill earlier this week to meet with the Republicans and were reassured — but not convinced.

"We still have misgivings about it and must support the administration bill," said Msgr. James Donohue, head of the education department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

Conway Lake Bridge Is Canceled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Armit Taylor, state Highway Commission chairman, indicated Wednesday afternoon that work may be canceled on a bridge across the narrows on Lake Conway.

Work on the $106,191 project was halted under an injunction issued by Chancellor Richard Mobley of Russellville after a $25,000 claim was filed against Faulkner County.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Holmes filed the claim when part of their land was condemned last fall by the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes told Judge Mobley that the county doesn't have the money to pay the claim and Mobley wants the commission to post $20,000 bond to insure payment of damages to property owners.

"We are sticking with our right of way policy," Taylor said. "If the people furnish the right of way, they have a better chance of getting the job done."

Lema Voted to Hall of Fame

LOS ALTOS, Calif. (AP) — Tony Lema, the young touring pro who was killed in a plane crash last summer, has been voted into the California Golf Hall of Fame.

Nelson Cullenward, president of the California Golf Writers, said today Lema will be honored at the writers' annual awards banquet Monday at the Los Altos Golf and Country Club.

Lema's home was in San Leandro, Calif.

SOLUNAR TABLES

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below has been taken from Richard Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Use Central Standard time.

Dodd Censure Only on Funds for Campaign

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee is expected to recommend that Sen. Thomas J. Dodd be censured or condemned only for using campaign and testimonial funds for personal expenses.

One source said the committee had settled on censure but others said this was still subject to change before the bipartisan panel submits its recommendations for Senate action.

Many senators regard censure and condemnation as virtually synonymous. But the committee reportedly has disagreed on which term is stronger.

Other aspects of the Connecticut Democrat's activities, it was reported, will draw criticism from the committee but in less severe terms.

These include instances of double billing for travel expenses, his use of cars loaned to him by a Connecticut contractor, and his relations with Julius Klein, a Chicago public relations man and a registered agent for West German interests.

The committee's report on its investigation of misconduct charges against Dodd may be submitted to the Senate today.

After a meeting of the panel Wednesday, Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said it had run into last-minute problems. But he added he hadn't given up hope of completing the report this week.

Committee members declined to disclose the snag.

Dodd will lose none of his rights or privileges as a senator even if he is censured by the Senate or his conduct is condemned.

The Ethics Committee is not expected to ask for immediate consideration of its report, although it could be called up for action at any time.

The committee held hearings last month on Dodd's financial affairs. Dodd, the final witness, said "my conscience is clear."

"I don't believe any man is going to look me in the eye and say I've done anything wrong," the 59-year-old senator said.

Dodd said more than $170,000 raised at testimonial affairs for him between 1961 and 1965 represented personal gifts he could use as he saw fit.

At the committee's first round of hearings last summer, Dodd denied doing anything improper on behalf of Klein.

Education Bill Backed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A. W. Ford, State Education commissioner, said Tuesday an education bill introduced by Rep. Albert H. Quile, R-Minn., is the "best proposal which has been introduced in congress dealing with this subject."

Ford sent a telegram to members of the Arkansas congressional delegation Tuesday, asking the group to support the bill.

Ford said the bill inaugurates a new approach to federal assistance to elementary and secondary schools. He said the measure provides "that the states be given grants which would be spent in accordance with approvable state plans."

Campaign Bill Showdown Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has agreed to a new showdown Tuesday in the bitter, protracted fight over whether to repeal the presidential election campaign financing plan.

But after another round of bad-tempered debate on the issue Wednesday, the senators involved could not agree on whether Tuesday's vote finally will settle the issue.

So far, in debating a tax bill since March 23, the Senate has had four separate votes involving amendments either to repeal or uphold the election subsidy plan.

Advocates of repeal won two of the tests, and proponents of the plan won two.

Pending now is a motion by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., author of the plan signed into law last year, to strike from the tax bill an amendment to repeal the financing law effective July 31.

Long wanted a vote on his motion Wednesday but Republicans — who have voted solidly for repeal — would not permit a roll call because six of their members were absent.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-DeI., a leader in the repeal fight, told Long he would be willing to enter an agreement that the battle would end with next Tuesday's vote.

But the Delaware senator advised his colleagues that if he lost that test, he might then propose as another amendment to the tax bill, a comprehensive election reform plan once advocated by President Johnson.

Long turned down the proffered agreement because of uncertainty about how many absentees his side would have Tuesday.

A preliminary check indicated he might be on the short end of the absentee lineup, Long said. But he pledged every effort to get his supporters back to Washington.

The campaign financing law could make available up to $30 million each to the Democrats and Republicans in 1968. It allows citizens to allot $1 of their federal income tax payments for the campaign, with the money to be shared equally by the two major parties.

The tax bill that has provided the battleground for the four-week floor fight is an administration measure aimed at restoring business tax breaks suspended last October. The tax bill already has passed the House.

Records Sure to Fall in Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Feroocious assaults on the world shot put mark and some relay records are certain in the 58th annual Drake Relays Friday and Saturday.

But the four-minute mile — which has eluded greats here in the past — isn't among the 27 meet records that may topple, even though Kansas' phenomenal Jim Ryun will be around.

Jayhawk Coach Bob Timmons has decided to use Ryun, who has run the fastest mile — 3 minutes, 51.3 seconds — and half-mile, 144.9, in history, strictly for relays.

Muscular Randy Matson, easily the biggest of the nearly 3,000 athletes competing here, is a solid favorite to win his third straight discus title Friday, then follow up with his third consecutive shot put championship Saturday.

Only last Saturday the mighty Texas A&M nightman heaved the shot 71 feet 5 1/2 inches — breaking his world record by 10 1/2 inches.

Ryun will do an anchoring 880 for the two-mile relay team and also anchor the four-mile team Friday. The next day, he will run the anchor mile on the distance medley.

Marines Are Hurting for Helicopters

By JOHN LENGEL

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Marines in Vietnam are hurting for helicopters. The Army has plenty.

The shortage can be seen in many ways: The body of a dead Marine rode on a tank near the demilitarized zone for two days before it was removed.

The assembly of a two-company relief force during an intense fight at Binh Son was delayed for at least three hours.

Ammunition for a battalion probe north of Route 9 arrived late, pushing back the jump-off time, two hours.

Where a U.S. Army battalion, leaves the field by helicopter, Marine forces often have to march.

On some occasions Marine units have found themselves short of water and rations in the field.

It cannot be said that a Leatherneck has starved to death, died of thirst or exhaustion, or that Marine wounded have been ignored, but the helicopter shortage has made the Marine's job a little bit tougher.

The U.S. Army in Vietnam has about 2,000 helicopters, including the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division's 432.

Support groups parcel out "Hueys" or "Slicks," and CH47 Chinooks for supply and frequent 60- and 70-chopper assaults in such operations as Junction City and Cedar Falls.

An Army battalion commander routinely has a Huey at his disposal to coordinate his companies from the air and get a better view. A Marine colonel considers this a luxury.

While the Army supports allied troops as well, there never appears to be any lack of choppers for its own 60 battalions.

It is not exceptional to see an Army unit provided in the field each night with heavy weapons, sand bags, hot food and sometimes a shower. Such service is virtually unknown to a Marine.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

SHE KNOCKED HIM OUT

Dear Helen: You may laugh at this or think I'm lying, but it's the honest truth. Last Friday I had a date with a girl and to be plain honest, I don't remember one blessed thing that happened. I wasn't drunk.

We went to a ball game, but for the two hours after that my mind is a complete blank. This was the first time I had ever dated a girl and the first time I had even kissed one. I had lipstick on my face when I "came to" at home, so I guess I did.

How can I find out what happened without looking like a fool and asking her? FIFTEEN YEAR OLD AMNESIA VICTIM Dear Fifteen: Wow! Your girl must have been a knock-out!

Why ask what happened? Just ask for another date. If she accepts, well, one of these days you can laugh together about your "amnesia"—and she'll be highly flattered by it. If she turns you down, maybe you'd better write a note of explanation and apology.—H.

Dear Helen: I dated a girl last summer, but she broke up with me when school started. I guess I was too slow for a fast girl, as I hear this year that the boys in her own grade won't go with her because of her reputation, so she dates older guys.

She has been very snobby to me, and tells other kids I'm a crum. I don't like her any more. So why is it, Helen, that I feel bad because the kids call her a you-know-what? Why does it make me sick to think of her as going bad? Should I try to help her?—BUD

Dear Bud: A decent guy hates to see a girl toss her reputation down the drain even though he no longer likes her as a girlfriend. She may not accept help from you, but there's no harm in letting her know you're there if she needs you.—H.

Dear Helen: Would you please tell girls the two things boys like least about them are: 1. Smoking, and 2. Vulgar language and swearing.—DON

Dear Don: They're told. According to my female letters, these two things are also what girls like least about boys. So knock it off, kids!—H.

Dear Helen: I am 14, and like a boy but can't talk to him because I get scared. I don't know if he likes me. Would it be all right to write to him, telling him how I feel?—MADLY IN LOVE

Dear M in L: A thousand times NO! If you write crush-letters to a boy you scarcely know, he'll never stop running.—H.

Dear Helen: The first year you "outgrow" Easter baskets and eggs etc., you feel pretty low. You're kind of proud you're out of the baby age, but still you feel like something is missing. My mother knew just what to do about it—she always does. On Easter morning, there was a basket for me, along with the ones for the little kids. In it was a light lipstick, a little compact—and would you believe it: eye make-up! (Which I can only wear on special occasions).

Isn't that a lovely way to tell your daughter you don't mind that she is growing up?—DAUGHTER OF A WONDER MOM

Dear Daughter: Certainly is. I hope other mothers will follow her example.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star, Copyright, 1967, Inc.
